

Rajesh & Others v. State of U.P. & Another

Allahabad High Court · Single Judge · 28 August 2014 · Application U/S 482 No. 10992 of 2009 · Listed for a future date (adjournment order; no substantive order passed)

HEADNOTE

Not a substantive Supply Code case — a bare interlocutory order in a Section 482 Cr.P.C. application, merely recording that the applicant's counsel had died, granting an opportunity to engage new counsel, and listing the matter after one month. No electricity-related holding, reasoning, or authority appears in the order.

HOLDING-UNITS

INTERPLAY · OFFTOPIC::empty-listing-order

Bare adjournment order with no substantive content

HOLDING

The order merely records that the applicant's counsel is reported dead, grants an opportunity to engage new counsel, and lists the matter after one month; it contains no reasoning, holding, or discussion of any Supply Code or Electricity Act provision. ¶ unnumbered order

FLAG Recorded for completeness of the source corpus only; no jurisprudential content.